

Changes to wording have been made throughout the document, in an effort to make the purpose, functions, and duties of the Parliament more clear and precise. Language has also been changed throughout the document in order to maximize efficiency within the weekly operations of the Parliament. Some of the key changes made to policy are:

- Adding the positions of Vice Chair, Outreach Officer, Transfer Community Representative.
- Making it so that any Parliamentarian challenging an Official for their position must now be willing to fill the position themselves.
- Restructuring the wording of Article V, Section VII, which describes voting procedure within the Parliament. No change to active procedure have been made; rather, wording was changed so the language would better reflect currently active procedure.
- Adding the option for a constitutional amendment to be approved by 3/4 of the Parliament, in addition to the current method of polling the population of Kresge.
